OFFERTORY

THERE'S A WIDENESS IN GOD'S MERCY

IN BABILONE

1. There's a wide-ness in God's mer-cy Like the wide - ness of the sea;
2. For the love of God is broad-er Than the meas - ures of our mind,
3. Trou - bled souls, why will you scat - ter Like a crowd of fright-ened sheep?

There's a kind-ness in God's jus-tice Which is more than lib - er - ty.
And the heart of the E - ter - nal Is most won - der - ful - ly kind.
Fool - ish hearts, why will you wan-der From a love so true and deep?

There is plen - ti - ful re-demp-tion In the blood that has been shed;
If our love were but more sim - ple We should take him at his word,
There is wel-come for the sin - ner And more grac - es for the good;

There is joy for all the mem-bers In the sor - rows of the Head.
And our lives would be thanks-giv-ing For the good - ness of our Lord.
There is mer - cy with the Sav - ior, There is heal - ing in his blood.

ABOUT TODAY'S MUSIC

This week, while we journey through this season of “Ordinary Time”, it is worth mentioning that this title is somewhat difficult to understand in English. It is perhaps more appropriate to think of it as “ordered time”, as “ordinary” simply refers to the fact that we are not in a season that celebrates a particular focus (i.e., Lent=penance, Advent=coming of Christ), but rather we rejoice in the “ordinary” miracles and events of the life of Jesus Christ as given in the Gospels. During the summer when the cathedral’s various choral ensembles are on vacation, there is more of a mix of hymnody in our liturgies. All the same, there is a clear preference for the use of the proper antiphon texts in the liturgy. Today, we sing the Communion Antiphon in an English translation to a modern chant setting. Another aspect of the reform requested by the Second Vatican Council was that the Latin language in general, and the Gregorian chant repertoire in particular, be preserved and fostered (Sacrosanctum Concilium, 36.1, 114, 116). A particular goal of the council fathers was that the assembly would be able to pray (and sing) the various parts of the Ordinary of the Mass (Kyrie, Gloria, Credo, Sanctus, and Agnus Dei) in various Latin settings (SC, 54, 118). It even commands that the voices of the faithful should “ring out” or “resound” in the singing of these settings. So, our use of various chant settings of these Mass parts is borne from a desire to fully live out and implement these true treasures of the Second Vatican Council. The Kyrie from Mass XI that we sing today is especially loved by composers, as many organ and choral pieces are based upon it. The Agnus Dei, sung at all Masses, is no less beautiful, however. We will rotate settings from these Masses throughout the next few months, all the while including worthy vernacular settings of these texts as well.
