One day within your courts is better than a thousand elsewhere. How lovely is your dwelling place, O LORD of hosts. My soul is longing and yearning for the courts of the LORD. My heart and my flesh cry out to the living God. Even the sparrow finds a home, and the swallow a nest for herself in which she sets her young, at your altars, O LORD of hosts, my king and my God.

THE LITURGY OF THE WORD

Today's Mass readings may be found on page 126 of Sunday's Word

"Just as Jesus prays to the Father and gives thanks before receiving his gifts, so he teaches us filial boldness: 'Whatever you ask in prayer, believe that you will receive it, and you will.' Such is the power of prayer and of faith that does not doubt: 'all things are possible to him who believes.' Jesus is as saddened by the 'lack of faith' of his own neighbors and the 'little faith' of his own disciples as he is struck with admiration at the great faith of the Roman centurion and the Canaanite woman." (CCC, 2610)

ABOUT TODAY'S MUSIC

This weekend, we make use of one of the great fruits of the “New Evangelization”: the recovery of the “proper” texts for the processions in the Eucharistic Liturgy. While it is customary (and licit) to replace these antiphon texts with hymns and even praise songs, it is done to the impoverishment of the Liturgy and especially to our comprehension of it as individuals. So often, the entrance antiphon (for example) sets a wonderful tone to the day’s liturgy. Today’s antiphon, which is slightly abbreviated version to facilitate congregational singing, helps orient us properly for worship (or, really, any prayer!) by imploring God’s help (“Turn your eyes, O God...”), and praising him for his goodness (in the second part of the antiphon, actually sung by the cantor: “One day with in your courts is better...”). In the cantor verses, we hear Psalm 84, which teaches us of the sublime goodness of having a place in God’s house. While the preferred mode of receiving these texts, according to the liturgical documents of Vatican II, is through the [Latin] Gregorian chant repertoire, at times when this is not possible (i.e., when the choir is on vacation!), these texts should be adapted to simpler melodies and even adapted to the English language. Today’s antiphons fit this category. While they are not as transcendent as the Gregorian originals, it is difficult to argue that they do not focus one’s mind on the mysteries that are celebrated!

THE CATHEDRAL CHOIR WILL SOON BEGIN REHEARSAL FOR THE UPCOMING CHOIR SEASON. AS A COMPREHENSIVE CATHEDRAL CHOIR PROGRAM, IT FOCUSES ON GREGORIAN CHANT, SACRED POLYPHONY, AND MODERN COMPOSITIONS IN APPROPRIATE GENRES. IF YOU ENJOY SINGING, CAN COMMIT A FEW HOURS A WEEK TO THE CHURCH, AND CAN READ MUSIC, PLEASE CONSIDER JOINING. MORE INFORMATION CAN BE OBTAINED FROM THE DIRECTOR OF MUSIC AT LUDWICK@STPAULSBHM.ORG OR 251.1279 x107.

CHILDRENS' SCHOLA CANTORUM, MEN'S SCHOLA, AND LADIES' SCHOLA!

We are pleased to continue the cathedral Ladies' Schola this Fall at St. Paul's. The Ladies' Schola is for women from high school age and up who have an interest in Gregorian Chant, music for womens' ensembles, and/or a group with a less demanding schedule than the Cathedral Choir. No previous experience is necessary.

The Ladies' Schola will meet concurrently with the Men's Schola from 5:15-6:00pm on Wednesdays beginning September 6. So, bring your husband or significant other and he can sing with...

...the cathedral Men's Schola! Similar to Ladies' Schola, the Men's Schola focuses on Gregorian Chant and easy polyphonic works. Rehearsal is from 5:15-6:00pm on Wednesdays beginning September 6; the liturgical schedule of the Schola is made in consultation with its members, singing once or twice a month.

Finally, the Children's Schola Cantorum continues this year, building upon its first full year in 2014-2015. Open to any child from grade three up, this ensemble is an ideal introduction to the sacred music and liturgical thought of the Church. Children learn fluency in Gregorian and modern musical notation, with a focus on healthy singing methods and liturgical catechesis. The Children's Schola sings monthly for weekend Masses at the cathedral and rehearses (beginning September 6) on Wednesdays from 3:45-4:30PM. Interested parents should contact the Director of Music for more information (contact listed above). We hope your child will come and “Sing a new Song to the Lord!”
