"He who believes in Christ becomes a son of God. This filial adoption transforms him by giving him the ability to follow the example of Christ. It makes him capable of acting rightly and doing good. In union with his Savior, the disciple attains the perfection of charity which is holiness. Having matured in grace, the moral life blossoms into eternal life in the glory of heaven." (CCC 1709)

ABOUT TODAY'S MUSIC

Today we celebrate the Third Sunday of Easter. In today's gospel, Jesus appears to the disciples on the road to Emmaus, consoling them and encouraging them to embrace the reality of the Resurrection. As we know, they realized who Jesus was in the breaking of the bread; may we pray that we do the same in today's Holy Mass! At 11:00AM Mass, Cathedral Choir sings the Gregorian offertory antiphon of the day. You will notice that in Gregorian chant, the Church takes the Alleluia very seriously! There is always an Alleluia at the end of every phrase, and at the end of the antiphon, a triple Alleluia, in case you needed another reminder to rejoice this Easter season. At 11AM, the Cathedral Choir sings the late Domenico Cardinal Bartolucci's motet O Sacrum Convivium. Bartolucci, for many years the director of the Sistine Chapel choir, know the chant intimately, and so sets it as a soprano melody in a "heavenly" range, accompanying this cantus firmus with the three other choral parts. It is a wonderful little miniature, full of joy and beauty. The voluntary after the 8:30 and 11AM Masses is one of Henri Mulet's showpieces, the Carillon-Sortie. Mulet, organist for many years at Sacré-Coeur Church in Paris, mostly wrote programmatic pieces—that is, ones where the theme was some sort of esoteric idea (for example, his famous set Esquisses Byzantines, character pieces based on his reflections and thoughts of the stained glass windows of Sacré-Coeur) or preexisting theme. In this case, it is the latter, with the right hand of the organist playing an ostinato meant to simulate bells ringing (freely, as they do in Continental Europe, not in a controlled manner as our change-ringing bells at the Cathedral do). Interestingly, the melody one hears in the left hand and pedal seems to simulate the general pitches and patterns of the bells at Sacré-Coeur...or at least it seems! A rousing finale utilizes the loudest voices on the Cathedral organ.
